The stylish Uniontown Bank - a term to describe building styles popular in Uniontown. At 3406 Uniontown Road, Dr. Jacob J. Weaver, Sr., who practiced medicine in Uniontown from 1848 to 1880, used some of the standard mid-nineteenth century remodeling techniques to create an up-to-date dwelling. In 1859, he purchased this property with a log house that appears to have been built by David Stem in 1812. The three central bays of the house are the original log structure. Weaver did primarily two things in his Victorian-style remodeling. He added a gable-front wing period ornamentation on the east side, and he covered the entire surface with a board-and-batten exterior. The one-story wing on the west side was the office for Dr. Weaver and his son.

16. 3406 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This building provides an interesting interpretation of rural Victorian-style architecture in Uniontown. This building was built by Henry Meyers in 1814-15. The building as it now stands is a tall, narrow structure with a broad chimney on its west gable end. Architecturally, it is an impressive brick structure with its Flemish-bond main facade, flat-arch lintels, and broad chimney on its east gable end.

17. 3362 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This building was built about 1810 by Christian Harshberger. He advertised the property in the January 27, 1814 issue of The Engine of Liberty as follows: “For Sale - House and lot in Uniontown opposite Jonas Crumbacker’s store, brick, two story house, cellar under whole, brick kitchen adjoining and other outbuildings, Christian Harshberger.” Architecturally, it is an inessive brick structure with its Flemish-bond main facade, flat-arch lintels, and broad chimney on its east gable end.

18. Uniontown Bank. The stylish Uniontown Bank was built in 1907 and retains all of its original fixtures as a banking establishment. Historic Uniontown, Inc. plans to operate this building as a banking establishment. Historic Uniontown, Inc. plans to operate this building as a historical museum. This building provides an interesting interpretation of rural Victorian-style architecture in Uniontown.

14. 3362 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This is one of the most impressive of early Uniontown buildings. While its design suggests a mid to late nineteenth century date of construction, written sources indicate that at least a portion of 3362 Uniontown Road was built by Henry Meyers in 1813-14. The building as it now stands is a tall, three-story brick structure with a heavy brick cornice and ornamental frieze that date from late nineteenth century. On the rear of the structure is a tiered porch at each story.

15. 3400 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This lot was sold by Earhart Cover to John Hyder, a surveyor, in 1811, and the original two-story section of the house was erected soon thereafter. The property remained in the Hyder family into the early twentieth century. In 1815, John Hyder was appointed Postmaster of Uniontown, an office that he held until 1848. He built the west wing onto the house for the Post Office.

16. 3406 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This building provides an interesting interpretation of rural Victorian-style architecture in Uniontown. At 3406 Uniontown Road, Dr. Jacob J. Weaver, Sr., who practiced medicine in Uniontown from 1848 to 1880, used some of the standard mid-nineteenth century remodeling techniques to create an up-to-date dwelling. In 1859, he purchased this property with a log house that appears to have been built by David Stem in 1812. The three central bays of the house are the original log structure. Weaver did primarily two things in his Victorian-style remodeling. He added a gable-front wing period ornamentation on the east side, and he covered the entire surface with a board-and-batten exterior. The one-story wing on the west side was the office for Dr. Weaver and his son.

17. 3420 UNIONTOWN ROAD

This building was built about 1810 by Christian Harshberger. He advertised the property in the January 27, 1814 issue of The Engine of Liberty as follows: “For Sale - House and lot in Uniontown opposite Jonas Crumbacker’s store, brick, two story house, cellar under whole, brick kitchen adjoining and other outbuildings, Christian Harshberger.” Architecturally, it is an impressive brick structure with its Flemish-bond main facade, flat-arch lintels, and broad chimney on its east gable end.

18. Uniontown Bank. The stylish Uniontown Bank was built in 1907 and retains all of its original fixtures as a banking establishment. Historic Uniontown, Inc. plans to operate this building as a historical museum. This building provides an interesting interpretation of rural Victorian-style architecture in Uniontown.
The building as it appears today is a reconstruction built in 1977 by Richard Blacksten. The original house was built by Stepwitz in 1804, with additions made in 1816. In 1832, it was purchased by Jacob Yingling, a saddler, who operated a store here for the greater part of the nineteenth century. A unique feature of this house was its porch which was actually the sidewalk under the porch roof.

1. 3444 UNIONTOWN ROAD
This is a reconstruction built in 1977 by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

2. 4323 UNIONTOWN ROAD
This house was built on land donated to school trustees by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

3. 3476 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was operated as a tavern by a number of proprietors until 1833 when it became a private residence.

4. 3477 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The Uniontown Hotel is one of the earliest buildings in the town. It has a datestone of 1802 and was built by Conrad Stem. The building was open as a tavern by a number of proprietors until 1833 when it became a private residence. The size and architectural details of the building made it a prominent structure for its time.

5. 3484 UNIONTOWN ROAD
This building was sold by William Roberts to John Smith in 1842 for $200. This price indicates the building cost $3,200, and the architecture of the building provides an example of how a structure can change over a long period.

6. 3485 UNIONTOWN ROAD
This building was sold by William Roberts to John Smith in 1842 for $200. This price indicates the building cost $3,200, and the architecture of the building provides an example of how a structure can change over a long period.

7. 3486 UNIONTOWN ROAD
This building was sold by William Roberts to John Smith in 1842 for $200. This price indicates the building cost $3,200, and the architecture of the building provides an example of how a structure can change over a long period.

8. 3487 UNIONTOWN ROAD
Uniontown Hotel.

9. 3488 UNIONTOWN ROAD
I.O.R.M Lodge Hall.

10. 3490 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was operated as a store in a small building just east of this house that was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence. Formwalt owned a general merchandise store in a small building just east of this house that was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence. Formwalt owned a general merchandise store in a small building just east of this house that was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence.

11. 3491 UNIONTOWN ROAD
9. 3492 UNIONTOWN ROAD
Weaver-Fox House.

12. 3493 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The most elaborate of Uniontown's Victorian structures is 3493 Uniontown Road. It was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence. Formwalt owned a general merchandise store in a small building just east of this house that was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence. Formwalt owned a general merchandise store in a small building just east of this house that was built by Emanuel Formwalt in 1914 for his residence.

13. 3494 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The school was established in 1839. In 1857, the Uniontown congregation had a church building that was constructed on this site which is now the United Methodist Church. The building housed a school from 1857 to 1957. The architecture of the church uses a gable-front design and facade arrangement that were popular during the mid-nineteenth century.

14. 3495 UNIONTOWN ROAD
15. 3496 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

16. 3497 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

17. 3498 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

18. 3499 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

19. 3500 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.

20. 3501 UNIONTOWN ROAD
The building was purchased by Dr. Charles Hubbs under a deed of trust that stipulates the English-speaking requirement.